
Margaret Sergeant, Ph.D.

Brief Bio:

I graduated with my doctorate in counseling psychology from the University of Louisville. I hold licenses in psychology and behavior analysis in Kentucky. I am the owner and director of Behavior Associates, LLC. We are a private practice in Owensboro, Ky that provides psychological and behavior services. Our primary client base are individuals with developmental and intellectual disabilities.

As a Board Member, what do you find the most rewarding - or what are you most hoping to accomplish?:

As the Western Kentucky Representative, I am hoping to increase involvement in the organization among psychologists in the western areas of Kentucky. I am hoping that we can reach professionals and students in this area and help them feel more connected to the organization.

Why did you decide to become involved as a leader within KPA?:

I have been involved in KPA since I was in graduate school and have appreciated the professional and political support that the organization offers psychologists in the state.

How did you end up in psychology?:

While teaching and considering a career in school counseling, I became acutely aware of the need for psychological services for these children. This and my graduate work experience in school counseling determined my career path toward the field of psychology.
